“He had taught her to love reading, one of the greatest gifts a parent could give a child, and in doing so, he had opened the world to her.”

— Kristin Harmel, The Book of Lost Names

Contact: linda.pabian@oradell.bccls.org for information